MIND SOUVENIRS

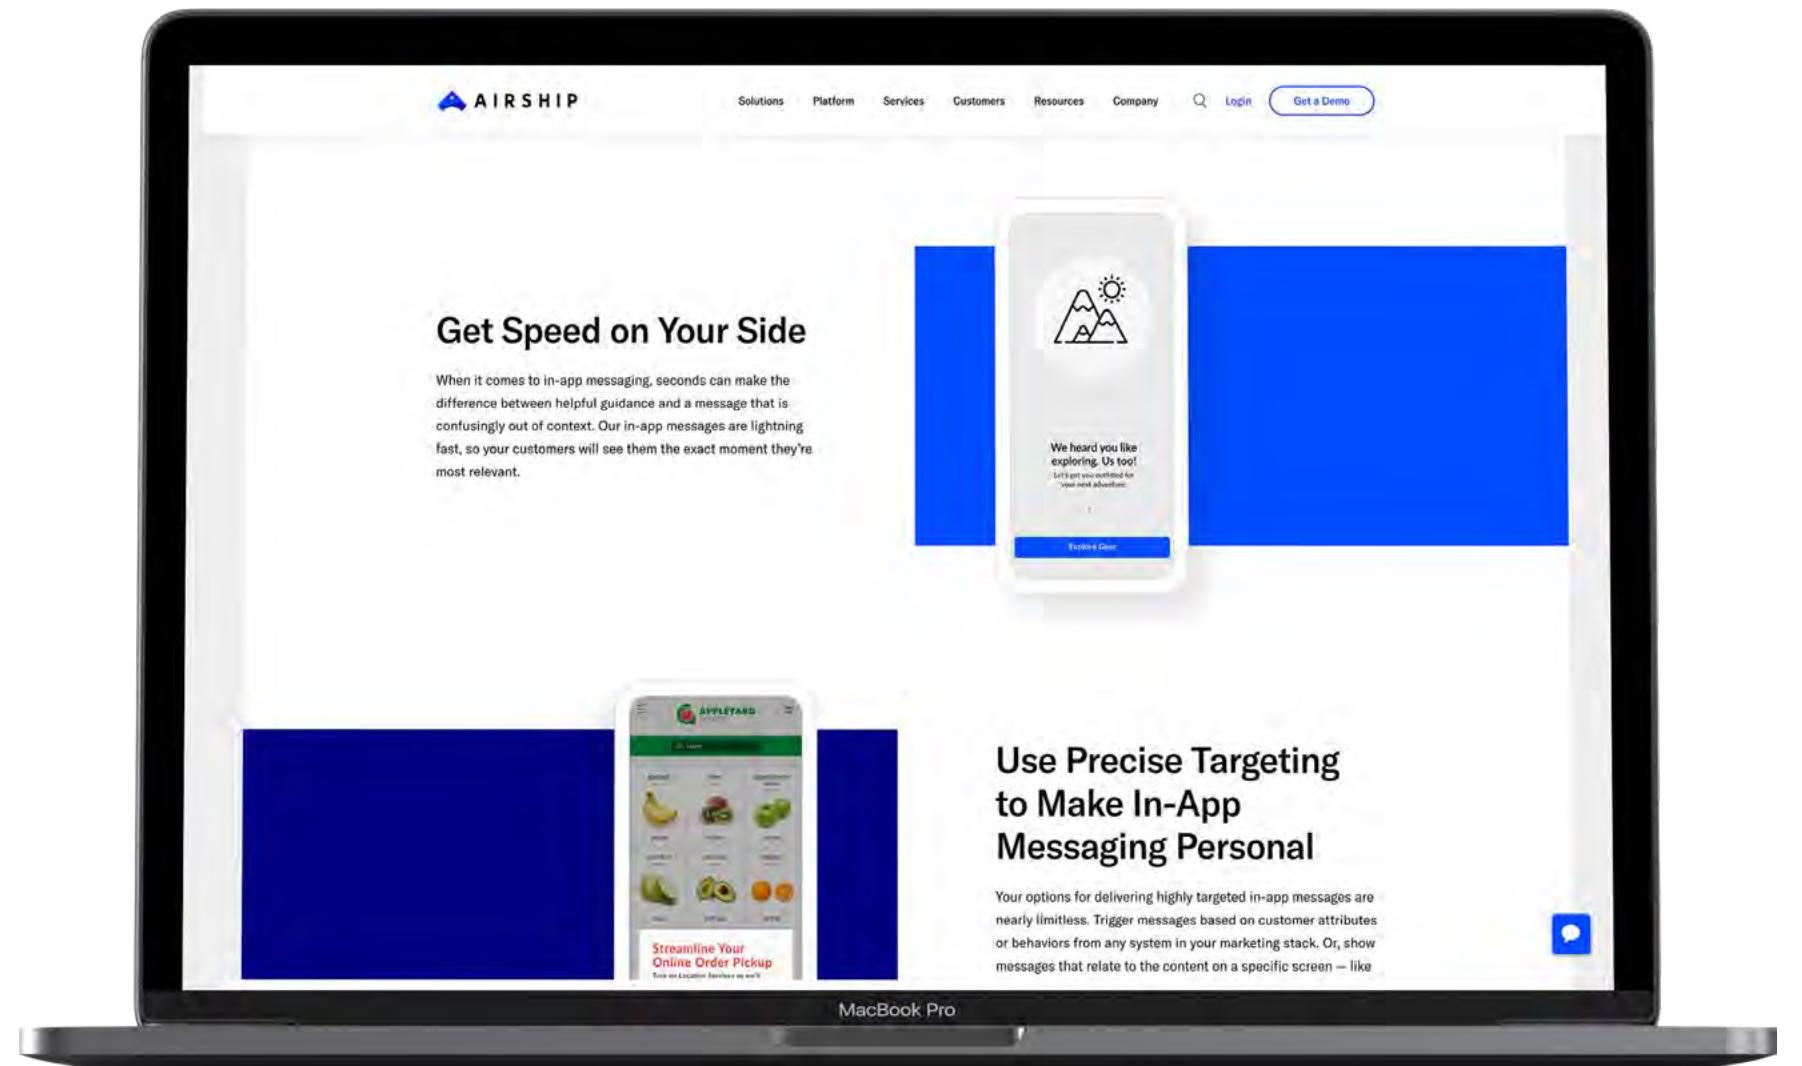

A 3D rendering thesis project representing the journal entries of a 5 day trip to San Francisco. Project and research derived from the historical architecture of the West Coast and executed using a medium I had never worked with previously. The result is an abstracted representation of the accounts described in the travel journal.

RENEGADE RABBIT

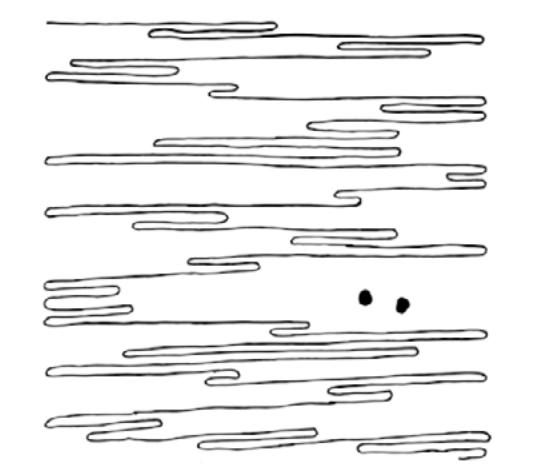

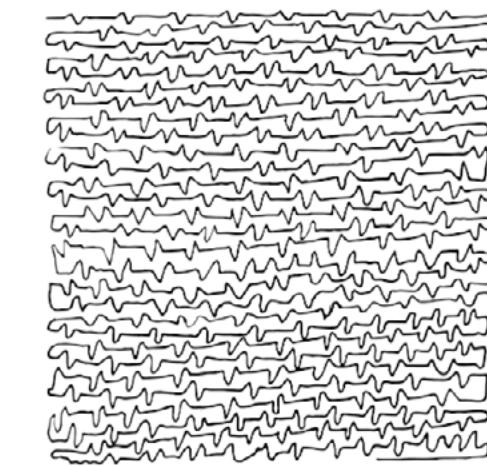

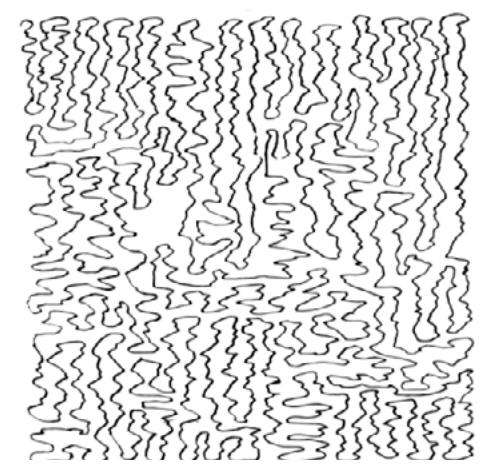

A limited edition run of t-shirts. Raising rabbits in 4-H as a youth Ellen Skiff learned that they have a lot of tactics for avoiding trouble and getting into it. We can all relate to that. Their movements inspired the designs.

Sustainably produced.

Limited edition.

A portion of the proceeds go to 4-H.

ABOUT ME

Greetings! My name is Ellen Skiff and I am a graphic designer living and working in the great state of Oregon.

With my mid-western work ethic and endless curiosity I find myself exploring many types of image making. I work mainly in digital mediums but I feel most creative when working with ink stained hands, a desk full of collage materials, or getting paint on my clothes. I enjoy volunteering for design organizations, collaborating with local filmmakers, and designing portfolio sites.

I am currently freelancing and always open for a challenge. Let's talk.
